

Channel 195

The Communications Committee is trying to streamline the information with Channel 195, Harbor Highlights, and the NLYH website, and we are asking for the help of all of those that publish articles on Channel 195.

When typing an article for Channel 195 could you please forward that article to our website at NLYH.news@gmail.com at the same time. Once you do this, you can proceed to drop it off at the office in the box on the conference room door as you have previously done.

It will all be taken care of from there and you will find that article not only on Channel 195 but also on our website.

One more request, please avoid calling Ruth Sharpin with your information or dropping any articles off at her home, as this will cause a delay in publication.

Thanks for your cooperation in this matter.
